Bonds Liberally Subscribed for in Carmel

Owing to the fact that Carmel's purchases of Third Liberty Loan bonds are listed as belonging to Monterey Peninsula district, Carmel does not appear in the list of towns which have been awarded the honor flags. Efforts are being made to have our quota established.

Last week's rally here has given a splendid impetus to the four-week drive, and up to last night nearly $11,000 worth of the bonds had been purchased by Carmel residents.

A patriotic crowd greeted the speakers at the Manzanita Theatre last Friday night. Led by the school children, the audience entered heartily into the spirit and the purpose for which they had gathered; i.e. the promotion and sale of Third Liberty Loan bonds.

Carmel Martin of Monterey, after reciting at length the atrocities of the Germans, and America's justification for going to war, observed how small an act it was for us at home to buy a Liberty Bond, as compared to the sacrifices the boys Over There are making.

As the result of Edgar E. James' splendid address, our people here probably know more about bonds, their value and negotiable character, than they heretofore had any notion of. "These bonds," said he, "are a medium of exchange; you are not expected to put them away and just draw interest. Put them into circulation. If you need the money their purchase represents, sell them, pay a bill with them. They have the same legal tender value as a government 'greenback.'" In conclusion, Mr. James said: "If you can't buy a Liberty Bond, miss a meal, and buy a 25-cent Thrift Stamp."

Augustin Daly never wrote a better comedy than "A Night Off." The Carmel Players will present the four-act laughmaker at the Manzanita Theatre tomorrow evening.

All indications point to a crowded Carmel the coming summer. Our real estate people report a brisk demand for houses, from points near and far.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge, who recently arrived in California from Bombay, India, will remain here several months. At present they are occupying the Hanson cottage.

Harry Decker, who has for some months been employed by the Carmel Development Co., has accepted position with the American Can Co. in San Francisco.

A. M. Allen's new cannery at Monterey, which is shortly to begin operations, has been tendered to the Red Cross for a monster benefit dance next Saturday night.

Arrangements will be made to care for the small children of any mother who desires to work at the local Red Cross rooms.

Miss Emma Dimock of Newport, R. I., was the guest of Miss E. A. McLean for several days last week. All the points of interest on the Peninsula were visited.

Leo Narvaez and George Schweninger are awaiting the call to military duty. The latter will be assigned to special service.

The Signal Corps boys, who were popular in Carmel while stationed at the Presidio, have arrived in France.

W. L. Puffer and wife, globe-troters, have bought a beautiful site at Carmel Highland, and plan to build at once.

Mrs. Mable Gray Young is accompanying her son, Lieutenant Harry Young, from San Diego to Dallas, Texas, where they expect to join Otto, who will shortly receive his commission.

The last installment of 1917 State and County taxes are due Monday, April 29. If not paid by that time a penalty will be added.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Duarte, who spent several months here following their marriage, have taken up their residence in Monterey.

Mrs. Lillie Hansen is expected home from Honolulu early next week.

On her way to her old home in Detroit, for which city she departed on Tuesday, Miss Kate M. Miles, will visit in Chicago for a week or two.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Laumeister are in their second week here, having driven down from Palo Alto in their new car for one of their occasional close-to-the-sea sojourns.

Mrs. W. H. Wyman, who while here was an active Red Cross worker, has returned to her home in Omaha. She plans to be here again in the Fall.

With the putting in of the concrete foundations, work has actually begun on the construction of the lodge at Pebble Beach.

Through the efforts of Food Administrator Johnson, the Pine Cone will be enabled to publish regularly the official weekly food news bulletins.

Walter Allbright, the son of Mrs. August Englund, is now a first class petty officer in the Navy, having recently been promoted.

Deputy Assessor B. E. Cahoon will be at the Pine Cone office today and tomorrow, from 2 to 3 p.m. Property owners should call and make their delarations.

Carmel-by-the-Sea

Oh the dunes of the fair Carmelo—
The swish of the deep-blue sea,
Are a lullabye and a pillow
Bringing rest to the soul of me.

Oh the snow-white sands of Carmelo—
The rocks and the wonder-caves
Bring visions of nixies and mermaids
That dance through the curling waves.

Oh the lure of the fair Carmelo—
The blue of the sparkling sea,
And the violet-y dreamy mountains
Bring joy to the heart of me.

WEEKLY GREETING

He is a poet in action, and therefore do I love him; because he is not only a poet—he is a man complete.—Son of Gabriele D' Annunzio.

EDITORIAL BRIEFS

Massachusetss is the eleventh state to ratify the federal prohibition amendment. To swing California we must elect to the Legislature men who we know will vote to ratify.

These are the facts: Lend your surplus money to Uncle Sam now, or hoard it for the kaiser. Buy Liberty Loan Bonds and Thrift Stamps.

It has been suggested that the city officials, aided by public-spirited citizens, inaugurate before the month is out, a "Carmel Clean-up Day." Vacant lots and some streets are sadly in need of attention.

Every financial demand incident to the war has been generously met by the people of Carmel. Keep it up.

Delay in improving other streets will be tolerated, but the public generally insists upon the immediate improvement of Ocean avenue.

A Brave Defender

Editor Pine Cone: Much has been said concerning what the Marshal has or has not done. Personally, I wish to say, having had charge of twelve cottages here for eight years, that until the appointment of Mr. Englund, every unoccupied cottage had been entered and slept in at different times. Since his appointment, there has not been a single instance. Many rainy nights I have seen him near the cottages, on watch for persons as might enter. Ella Rigney

Editor Pine Cone: Just a few lines to let you know how the Navy has been treating me. The Navy is one of the best homes a fellow can have next to his own, for no where in the world would he get as good treatment, clothes, food, and a warm bed, plenty to eat made of the best to be had.

I have changed by rating from Seaman to Fireman, as I know now there is a very good opportunity to advance. We are given plenty of physical training, and I know I am going to reap great benefits.

I have been in the best of health and I hope all my friends are. I have just subscribed to the Third Liberty Loan, which the government gives me ten months to pay for. I am sure, if I can get a bond, there are very few who can not, and everyone should.

I would like to thank the people in Carmel who have not forgotten me. Believe me, I am not ungrateful for the kindnesses they have done me.

I see Mr. Fred Search often and we are good friends. Yours,
Charles De Vega

All Americans Can Serve

Every man, woman and child in this country, who wants to serve the country, can serve it and serve it in a very simple and effective way, says Secretary McAdoo.

That service is to lend your money to the government. Every 25 cents loaned to the government is a help at this time and practically every man, woman and child, by making some trifling sacrifice, some denial of a pleasure, or giving up some indulgence, can render the government that support.

OFFICIAL FOOD NEWS

Issued by
U. S. Food Administration for California
RALPH P. MERRITT, Commissioner

The U. S. Food Administration for California announces that all meatless days and porkless days have been discontinued until further notice and that it is the specific request of the Government that people fix their attention on the saving of wheat as well as grains of all kinds.

You may eat all the meat you need, but be sure to save every ounce of wheat and wheat products that you can and if possible do entirely without bread until the next harvest. Many thousands of American families are now doing this by substituting potatoes and other vegetables for bread.

The object of the wheat campaign is to cut consumption one-half. Keep your eye on that goal; let nothing turn you aside. We are in a race with Germany. "Food Will Win the War"—but whose food?

The American people have been asked to save 100,000,000 bushels of wheat by July as a military necessity. You are a military unit in the campaign and three times a day you are called on to do your share. If you fail you imperil the safety of the army on the other side. No reason, no excuse matters; the only thing that counts is saving the wheat—the cut must be made.

"But biscuits are the quickest to make," objects one woman.

That's an excuse, not a reason—if you must have biscuits why not barley biscuits, rice biscuits, or corn flour biscuits?

"I must keep light bread on hand," says another, "my oven is often not hot enough for cornbread."

One-half cream bread, rice, potatoes or hominy are excellent bread substitutes and can be cooked on top of the stove.

"But," and this is heard from many women, "my grocer has no substitute flour for 'Victory Bread.'"

Well, why not potatoes? Potato bread is excellent and potato biscuits a treat. There are always potatoes too small to bake that can be turned into bread. Small potatoes make large loaves. Substitute brains and the will to conquer for excuses, and the wheat will be saved.

One woman who could buy no substitute cereals at her store and had no money to order elsewhere made two weeks' supply of flour do for three. She did the job; she cut flour consumption one-third, and that's the point.

How to save your share of that 100,000,000 bushels of wheat is mostly a matter of ingenuity. When you get in a tight place use your head—substitute brains—but above all do the job.

WHEATLESS RECIPES

Hominy Bread

1 cup cold boiled hominy
1½ cups milk
1 cup corn meal
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 egg
1 tablespoon fat

Put the hominy into a bowl and beat it thoroughly with a fork. Pour the milk gradually over the hominy and continue beating. Mix and sift the corn meal, salt and baking powder and add them, with the egg well beaten and the melted fat, to the hominy. Bake the mixture in a deep, greased baking dish for thirty minutes, or for fifteen minutes in muffin tins.

WHEATLESS PIE CRUST—No. 1

1½ cups rye flour
1½ cups barley flour
¾ cup rice flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
⅝ cup fat
⅞ cup water

BARLEY PONE WITH CORN MEAL

½ cup barley
1 cup corn meal
1 tablespoon vegetable oil or oleomargarine
2 tablespoons molasses
1 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking powder

Wash the barley and boil slowly in 4 cups of boiling water for one hour. While hot, add the corn meal slowly, stirring very hard so the meal will not lump. Add the molasses and salt; mix well; when cooled add the baking powder; put into two well-greased, medium-sized pie tins. Bake for from thirty to forty minutes, or until nice and brown. Serve with syrup.

EGGLESS RYE MUFFINS

2 cups rye flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon vegetable oil or fat.

Mix and sift the dry ingredients; add the milk and vegetable oil. Mix quickly, do not beat. Bake in greased muffin pans 20 minutes, in a hot oven. This yields 12 muffins.

Food control in North America today means chiefly getting the food across the Atlantic at all costs.
